Notes

Andrew Warner brought his family to America late in the year 1632. His name appears prominently in the town records of Cambridge, Mass, for the next 4 years preceding the sale of his dwelling house and other lands on December 20, 1636. It was about this time that he and several others, including Rev. Thomas Hooker, moved to Hartford, CT. In his History of Connecticut, published in 1797, Mr. Benjamin Trumbull gives a colorful description of the journey....."About the beginning of June, Mr. Hooker, Mr. Stone and about a hundred men, women and children took their departure from Cambridge and travelled more than 100 miles, through a hideous and trackless wilderness to Hartford. They had no guide but their compass; made their way over mountains, through swamps, thickets and rivers, which were not passable, but with great difficulty. They had no cover but the heavens, nor any lodgings but those which simple nature afforded them. They drove with them 160 head of cattle, and by the way, subsisted on the milk of their cows. Mrs. Hooker was borne through the wilderness upon a litter. The people generally carried their packs, arms and some utensils. They were nearly a fortnight on their journey."

Arriving at their destination the group proceeded at once to obtain title to the land, purchasing it from the Indians in 1636. According to a legal description in the Hartford records, Andrew's residence was located on the north side of the present Charter Oak Avenue, a little east of Main Street. In addition to the home lot of approximately two acres Andrew owned four other parcels of land located in different parts of town, totaling in all about 80 acres. The land records refer to him as "Andrew Warner Deacon to the Church of Christ." It isn't clear whether he was made a deacon before they left Cambridge or after the arrival in hartford.

The early records of Hartford contain many references to Andrew concerning his activities as a surveyor. At one time he also served as chairman of the coroner's jury which decided that "wee doe finde that the sd partye, going against his master's comand with his master's canoe into a place of danger, or that is to the milldam, is guilty of his own death, being drowned".....from the Hartford Court Records.

Soon after the death of Rev. Thomas Hooker there developed a breach in the church. The controversy, at first local, regarding matters of church membership, discipline, and baptism, spread to neighboring churches and was felt throughout New England. It led not only to the establishment of the Second Church of Hartford, but to the settlement of Hadley, Mass. by colonists from Hartford, Wethersfield and neighboring churches.

Attempts were made by the General Court and various advisory bodies to end the quarrel but in April 1659, 59 residents of Hartford, Wethersfield, and Windsor, decided to move to a new territory which they had selected on the east side of the Connecticut River opposite Northampton, Mass. At the age of 65 years Andrew had been a resident of Hartford for over 20 years and had seen it grow from a few huts in the wilderness. He sold his Hartford homestead in November 1659 for 130 pounds, "to be payd one-third part in wheat, the other third part in peas, both at the price currant and the other third part is suteable _____ corn to be payd in at the Comon landing place or any House in hartford as the sayd Andrew or his assigns shall appoynt, the corn to be sweet and every way well conditioned and the _____ to be two shillings in the pound cheaper than I will sell those sorts by retayle".

The village of Hadley, as finally laid out, consisted of 47 lots, nearly all of 8 acres each. In addition to the home lot, Andrew Warner later became the owner of 3 other pieces of property in or near Hadley, aggregating in all 42 acres. It seems to have been the custom of the early New England settlers to have their land scattered in several parcels rather than united in one or two holdings. The early records of Hadley whow Andrew as again being active in the affairs of the town. He was three times elected Townsman, or Selectman, as it was later called. He served on the jury of the Hampshire County Court and on various committees. Records show that Andrew was in the "malting" business. In his History of Hadley, Judd stated that the malting business established by Andrew Warner "malting" business. In his History of Hadley, Judd stated that the malting business established by Andrew Warner was continued for 130 years by 3 generations of his descendants.

Little is known of Andrew's first wife whose name according to family tradition was Mary. Soon after Andrew's removal to Hadley, he was married to Esther or Hester Wakeman Selden, daughter of Francis and Ann (Goode) Wakeman. She was baptised June 15, 1617, and died in Hadley in 1693. Her first husband was Thomas Selden, who died in 1655. Andrew Warner died December 18, 1684, aged about 90 years. An inventory of the estate showed a total value of 365 pounds 11 shillings and 4 ?? and included 9 parcels of real estate, clothing, household goods, grain and stock.

Date of will is June 16, 1681, Proved March 31, 1685.

Named in the will were wife Esther and children:

son, Jacob Warner, calls Esther his mother son, Daniel Warner, also called Esther his mother daughter, Ruth Warner, called Daniel's sister son, Isaack Warner son, Andrew Warner
 son, Robert Warner son, John Warner daughter, Hills (Mary who married Wm. Hills) daughter, Pratt (Hannah, wife of Daniel Pratt)

Have given all the children to Mary as I do not have birth dates for them. Any born after 1659 could belong to 2nd wife Esther as it says in the story Andrew married Esther shortly after settling in Hadley which was about 1659

Quick Timeline:

1632.....Andrew came to America with family
 1636.....went to Hartford with Rev. Hooker
 1659.....moved to Hadley to establish a new church there

Interesting situation as the Ancs File has Mary living until 1672 and dying in Hadley. Confused.

Names of parents and ancestors came from the Pedigree chart found on Ancestral File, LDS. Not sure how correct any of it is at this time.

In the COLONIAL FAMILIES OF THE UNITED STATES, page 546 (as taken from CD , Colonial Genealogies by FTM we find that they say Andrew was born in Hatfield. Gloucester, England. Needs to be checked out.

Also added is that he was elected Freeman, May 14, 1634, in Cambridge, MA

Notes

Isaac no doubt moved to Hadley, Mass. with his father in 1659. On May 31, 1666 Isaac married Sarah Boltwood, daughter of Robert and Mary Gernor Boltwood of Northfield. The births of their first four children were recorded at Hadley, but sometime after 1673 they must have moved to Northfield, and later to Deerfield. He died there in 1691. Sarah married 2nd on December 20, 1696, Deacon John Loomis of Windsor, Conn.

Notes

Ichabod Warner (Isaac 2, Andrew 1)

From Jan Herbert: ICHABOD WARNER, was born about 1684, probably Northfield, Mass. His father died when he was about 7. Ichabod probably moved with his mother to Lebanon, CT, when she married John Loomis in 1696. Deacon Loomis received a grant from the proprietors of Lebanon in 1700 and settled there as early as 1703/4.

On March 5, 1711/12 Ichabod married Mary Metcalf, daughter of Jonathan and Hannah (Kenric) Metcalf. Mary was born about 1690 and was first married to John Pratt. The Lebanon deeds show that Ichabod started buying and selling land as early as 1714. Later he must have lived nearer to Windham since the records there show that permission was given for him to build a dam across Pideon Swamp Brook (Pidgeon??) in 1727. Ichabod and Mary were members of the church in Windham in 1726.

Mary died April 26, 1747 and Ichabod married 2nd, on February 4, 1748, Sarah Phelps of Lebanon. She was probably the "widow Sarah Warner" who died June 2, 1783 at age 78. Ichabod died intestate January 18, 1767. The cemetery at Windham contains gravestones of both Ichabod and his first wife, Mary.

The Windham probate records give the Inventory of Ichabod's estate dated March 23, 1767 and a lengthy document dated December 6, 1767, showing the distribution of the estate. A few points of the documents:

20 acres of land lying in Lebanon which was given by Ichabod Warner, deceased to his son, Ichabod.....

59 acres of land lying in Canterbury which said Ichabod Warner gave to his son, Daniel.....

"Whereas the Honorable Court of Probate for Windham District in the County of Windham did appoint us the subscribers to divide distribute and sell out the estate of Ichabod Warner of said Windham, deceased, both real and personal settlement of said estate in said Court of Probate. To each of the heirs according to said settlement is by order of said court may more fully appear, we therefore being sworn according to Law to a faithful discharge of said Trust and having mett and viewed said lands and moveables and measured said lands we have divided and sett out to the several heirs their several parts of said lands for quantity and quality and the moveables according to said settlement their equal proportion....."

There follows a legal description of the land and the "moveables" which were "set out" to each of the eight living heirs of Ichabod. Daniel's portion goes like this:

"And unto Daniel Warner we have sett out one piece of land containing 2 acres and 75 rods, it being the 8th part of the Land mortgaged by Ebenezer Gillet and it is bounded as followeth, beginning at a stake and stones by the south side of the highway that goes from Lebanon village to Hebron.....

The moveables sett out to the said Daniel are as followest:

an old great coat
 2 woolen shirts 17s, an old blue coat 1s
 3 pr yarn stockens 22s, a bed, covered and blanket, bolster and pillows, bedstead and cord 43s, a basket 6d
 a funnel 1s, one ceader tub 2s, a churn 5s 2d, hogshead tubs 3s, 4d
 2 augers, a drawing knife and an old adds
 2 books 2s, a great Bible 8s, 6 bus. wheat 24s
 cash

The above said piece of land together with above said moveables to be unto him the said Daniel and his heirs forever to hold in severalty."

forever to hold in severalty."

On May 26, 1768 Daniel acknowledged the receipt of his portion of the estate:

"Item I Daniel Warner of Dutchess County, in the Province of New York, heir to the estate of Mr. Ichabod Warner, late of Windham deceased, have received of my brother Nathaniel Warner, Administrator on ye estate of said deceased, the sum of 15 pounds 14shillings 4d, lawfull money value in cash and sundry articles of moveable estate which is in full of my part of said Moveables, & do hereby acquit and discharge said Nathaniel Warner in his said capacity of Administrator to me, or any person by or under me and also I hereby promise to and with said adm. that I will refund and pay back to him said administrtor my equal and just proportion of my debt that hereafter shall appear to be justly due from said deceased estate. As witness, my hand, DANIEL WARNER

Mary Metcalf's parents were Jonathan Metcalf and Hannah Kenric. The Metcalf family tree has been traced back beyond the year 1200. There is a straight line back to 980 in Denmark and a Viking Robber. May or may not be correct, but will not imput it here at this time. Will take it back to the immigrant ancestor.

Mary Metcalf (Jonathan 2, Michael 1)

Mary apparently had married John Pratt as her first husband. Must have been short-lived as she married Ichabod Warner March 5, 1711/12. She would have been about 21 at that time.

1. The first part of the paper discusses the importance of understanding the underlying mechanisms of the observed phenomena. This is crucial for developing effective interventions and policies.

2. The second part of the paper focuses on the methodological aspects of the study. It describes the data collection process, the statistical models used, and the validation procedures.

3. The third part of the paper presents the results of the analysis. It shows that there is a significant relationship between the variables of interest, and this relationship is robust across different subgroups.

4. The fourth part of the paper discusses the implications of the findings. It suggests that the results have important implications for both theory and practice, and it provides some recommendations for future research.

5. The fifth part of the paper concludes the study. It summarizes the main findings and reiterates the importance of the research. It also acknowledges the limitations of the study and suggests directions for future work.

6. The sixth part of the paper provides a detailed discussion of the theoretical framework. It explains how the study is grounded in existing theory and how it contributes to the understanding of the phenomenon.

7. The seventh part of the paper describes the data in more detail. It provides information about the sample size, the response rate, and the characteristics of the participants.

8. The eighth part of the paper presents the results of the descriptive statistics. It shows the distribution of the variables and the relationships between them.

9. The ninth part of the paper discusses the results of the inferential statistics. It shows that the findings are statistically significant and that they are consistent with the theoretical expectations.

The History of the Moravian Congregation has a list of children for Daniel as follows: it is slightly different than other lists.

Dec. 12, 1777.....The married Brethren Nathan and Daniel Warner, both heads of large families, were forcibly taken to Allentown and being unwilling to serve in the militia, for two months, and unable to pay 108 pounds ransom, they were forced to cut fifty cords of wood each, in the neighborhood of Allentown, for the use of the soldiery. their laborious task was duly completed and they returned to their homes in February of the following year with a promise of 4 d. per cord as payment

There follows a legal description of the land and the "moveables" which were "set out" to each of the eight living heirs of Ichabod. Daniel's portion goes like this:

"And unto Daniel Warner we have sett out one piece of land containing 2 acres and 75 rods, it being the 8th part of the Land mortgaged by Ebenezer Gillet and it is bounded as followeth, beginning at a stake and stones by the south side of the highway that goes from Lebanon village to Hebron....."

In their book "The Descendants of Andrew Warner", Lucien C. Warner and Mrs. Josephine Genung Nichols tell about descendants of Ichabod's son Daniel who have within recent years, been the possessors of his family Bible and an old coat which he is said to have worn. One of his descendants wrote a description of the coat about 1890.

About fifteen years ago the coat was in the possession of Joshua Warner, the great, great, great grandson of Ichabod. Jonas Warner and his wife saw this coat and handled it, the former put on the coat and he says it hung to the floor. It was the longest coat he ever saw and must have belonged to an exceedingly tall and slender man. It was made of some kind of thin cloth of a grayish blue color, was a sort of sack coat without many seams and had 9 silver-colored buttons."

Daniel's history from Jan Herbert:

Daniel Warner was born July 10, 1714. His birth was recorded in the Windham, CT, town records and in the Lebanon (Moravian) Church. On December 8, 1739 he married Bethiah Gennings, daughter of Ebenezer Gennings and Mary Bidlack/Bidlock. Bethiah was born in Windahm on March 11, 1720. Sometime after the birth of their 5th child, Daniel and his family moved to Hebron, CT, where the next 2 children were born. After that, about 1750 they moved to Dutchess County, N.Y. They became members of the Moravian settlement known as the Sichem Moravian Congregation, near the border line of CT. In 1770 Daniel, his wife and 6 of their children moved to Gnadenhutten, Northampton Co., PA, where they were attracted by favorable offers of land on the Mahoning. This was the location of another strong Moravian Church. The family took up temporary quarters in the old Fort Allen, but by January 1771 they had completed their house and moved across the river from the fort. Daniel was a cooper by trade. According to his will, dated December 22, 1790, Bethia had already passed away by that date. Tradition says that in later life he became insane and died in that condition. His spirit was said to have returned to his former cabin, and he was known as "Spookin' Dan'l". Witnesses that were present at the signing of Daniel's will later testified that Daniel "was of sound mind and memory and understanding" so if the family tradition is accurate and the witnesses statement is correct, Daniel's state of insanity was only a little over a year in length at the most. His will was proved April 3, 1792.

Transcrip of Daniel's will....."Gnadenhutten on Mahony Creek, December 22, 1790. Whereas I have made 2 wills or testaments at different times past; But having more narrowly examined my circumstances after the decease of my dearly beloved wife, Bethia Warner, finding my outward offices not so favorable as when I thought at first. Secondly, the Lands Chattels and what belongs to my estate be regularly valued or priced and what remains after the above mentioned debts be deducted, is to be divided into three equal parts; one part I will and bequeath to my son Samuel Warner. The second part, I will and bequeath to my son Esra Warner and the third part is to b divided into three equal shares. One share I will and bequeath to my son Massa Warner, and two shares to daughter Hannah Warner.

But if it should be more binding, or be required by law, I will and bequeath one of the above mentioned three parts to every one of the rest of my children, half a crown, or 2 shillings and 6 pence PA. Currancy, that is to Daniel or his heirs, 2 shilling and 6 pence, to John Warner, 2 shil 6 pence and to my daughter, Mary Warner. married to Elisha Smith, 2 shil 6 pence. These 5 half crowns are to payed out of the above 3 parts as mentioned already if required or demanded. And I make and ordain my son Massa Warner, sole Executor of this my will in trust for the interests and purposes in this my last will and testament in the presence of us who were present at the signing and sealing thereof, Boaz Walter, Peter Edmonds Northampton Co., on the 3rd day of April in the year of our Lord 1792. In 1775 Daniel married second, Catherine Edmonds, daughter of Edmund and Elizabeth Edmonds. Catherine was born September 4, 1748. During the Revolution the Warners remained true to their belief as Moravians that they should not take part in Army service. On Dec. 12, 1777 Daniel and his brother Nathan were forcibly taken to Allentown, and, being unwilling to serve in the militia for two months, and unable to pay 108 pounds ransom, they were forced to cut fifty cords of wood each, in the neighborhood of Allentown, for the use of the army. In religeion did not so advance in our Saviour's Grace, as one could wish to have seen, yet the faithfull Shephard found him at the last. The means towards his desolution was the bloody flux, which on the 9th of this month he was strongly seized with, on Saturday 15th He told me it would not be long that he had to live here. Said he was not afrade to die, but did not feel happy in his heart, and was a good deal trubled and exclam'd much against himself, for his backsliding, and neglegence towards our Saviour and his grace. I told him, he should still cast himself, with all his misery before our Saviour's feete, who all ways helps the poor and needy in distress. Sund 16th he sent for me again I went and found him in great distress of body, but joyfull in his mind, he reach'd me his hand and said with a blithe countenance he was glad to see me I came at the right time, to sing him some sweete verses at his going to his Saviour. I Sung, then the Saviour's Blood and Righteousness! That is my all, I want nothing els, I have nothing Els, O what sweet words, then in rapture cal'd his children one and admonish'd them to love our Saviour and live for him in this world, nothing was worth minding so much in this world, as to love our Saviour. Towards evening he seem'd to be much easear, and his hard pains abated, which gave some small hopes of a possability of his recovery, which many of us could have wish'd (If the Lord pleased) for the sake of his poor wife and children. I had ask't him before if he would not like to recover again, for his wife and children's sake? He reply'd O, no, no, I will go to my Saviour, I have nothing in this world more. My wife and children I have given over to Him. He will take care of them. He cal'd out several times come dear Saviour take me soon. Sarah's obituary from the Allemangel-Gnadenhutten, PA churchbook:

Fryday July 15th, 1774, betwixt 6 & 7 of the clock departed happily to our Saviour the married Sister Sarah Warner, daughter of Br & Sr Azariah and Mary Smith at Sichem in the Oblong in New York Province. She was born June 17, 1748 at Salisbury in the Colonie of Connecticut in New England, about this time made her parents acquaintance with the United Brethren who did go to and fro in these parts among the Indian, and did seeke to preserve their children from the common corruption of the World. And when after that in the year 1756 one of the Brethren as labourer came to live among them, she, by frequenting the children's meeting got a spark in her heart of our Saviour Love, but by growing in years there appeared also the love towards the world as her vanities in her till about the year 1765, she came into a new desire and longing for Grace wrought by her through the labour of the Holy Ghost, and was afterwards in her 18th year baptized by Br Francis Bohler in April the 20th, 1766. In February 1767 she married the present widower, Daniel Warner, and our Saviour blessed their state with 3 little daughters, and are all living. One could wish to see her to go at that time deeper in our Saviour and to experience more grace but she was as a standing pool. She came the 3rd of November 1773, with her husband and children to Gnadenhutten. On the 12th of this month she was delivered of a daughter whose soul had gone to our Saviour before it was born. She believed and said she should not live long herself, and would now be soon with her dear Saviour. She was sensible as a poor sinner of her own sinfulness and backsliding, but relieth with that situation of heart on His free grace and mercy. This morning she sent for Br & Sr Shorps, and when we came to her we found her hastning very fast to her desolution, but was herself present in her sences. I told the Watchword for the Day. "Call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver Thee, and thou shalt gloryfy me." She said "O! that is a fine text" and in a few minutes after her soul went happily over into the hands of her Creator and Redeemer, her age 26 year and 1 month. Saturday 16th her remainder was layd to rest in the Old burring Ground as the first fruit since the settling again of Gnadenhutten. And she now surely "Sings to Him Psalms thankful, who thus wip'd off her tears" which is the Antip. under the Watchword mentioned above.
